April Fools Fall in Love

via Ann McGill - 4/1/2004

There is the saying, "Fools fall in love."

Our wish for you this April 1st "Fools Day"
is that you be as foolish as possible.

Silly, stupid, idiotic, irrational ...
this is how foolishness is described.

Sounds like fun to me! Laughing, playing, dancing, acting like a kid.
I could really enjoy, find it easy, to fall in love with someone like that.

What about you?
Are you willing to fool yourself
into falling in love with yourself,
by being so foolish as to play and have fun loving yourself fully ...
no matter how silly, stupid, or out of character it seems?

When self joins with Self in the joy of playing the fool and falling in love with Love, you stop fooling yourself about who you really are.

n/ Joy ... b/ Peace ... w/ Love ...
